

CODECASA 42 - Vintage Series - Hull F 75

In the wake of the first unit, Hull F73, now M.Y. Magari that, since its presentation, met with such an outstanding audience success among the yachting lovers and operators that it was awarded with the Nautical Design Awards for the “BEST INTERIOR DESIGN 2011”, Codecasa Shipyards began building “on spec.” the second unit of the CODECASA 42 - Vintage Series, Hull F75.

Same as Hull F73, Hull F75, the delivery of which is scheduled in Summer 2013, will also have a remarkable interior volume, composed of two spacious salons, four large Guests’ Cabins, one Owner’s Suite located on the forward main deck, in addition to fully equipped service areas and comfortable exterior spaces throughout the three decks.

The interior design, once again entrusted to the in-house Interior Designers’ skilful hands, Franco and Anna Maria Dellarole, even if it recalls the previous hull in its lines as well as in the ivory finishing of the wood used for furniture and walls, becomes different for some more decided style choices, such as the dark mahogany wood flooring in all Guests’ and Owner’s areas.

From a technical point of view, the hull design entrusted to Codecasa Shipyards’ experience, the top speed of 17 knots assured by the twin 1650 Hp each CAT engines, the over 70.000 liters fuel oil capacity, the warrantee offered by the Certifications released by worldwide re-known Classification Societies, like MCA and Lloyd’s Register, make this 42 meters a safe yacht, suitable for long cruises in any weather conditions.
